

Candidate pool depth versus perfect ordering

Both panels report the strict cross-domain slice (905 judged queries, 5,193 relevant-family incidences)

A. Oracle Recall@100 attainable from a pool of depth k

B. Relevant families still never retrieved

Deepening the pool buys several times more Recall@100 than perfectly reordering a shallow one — and leaves most of the evidence unseen.